

The needs of children and adolescents in the 21st century

Do children and adolescents have different needs today? What would Dr. Maria Montessori say about the development of digital technology? How would she integrate it in various learning environments?

Her extensive works give possible answers - and who would be more familiar with it than acknowledged experts?

Three international speakers take the participants on a Montessori journey from early childhood through the elementary level to puberty and adolescence.

Registration starts 03.05.2022.

The conference fee is 30 €.

Please keep in mind that attendance in person is subject to the Didacta Fair entrance fee.

Tickets can be purchased here.

Due to the international nature of Montessori pedagogy and this year's conference, the presentations are held in English. Translation* into German via headphones is available for those attending in presence. 10€
